NASTY WOMEN Memphis | WAR Paint!

Art Exhibit Raises Funds for Planned Parenthood in Memphis, Tennessee

Memphis, Tennessee -

NASTY WOMEN Memphis is an exhibition of work by artists who identify as or support a Nasty Woman in the face of threats to roll back women's rights, individual rights, and reproductive rights. The exhibit also serves as a fundraiser with 50% of all art sales being donated directly to Planned Parenthood of Tennessee and North Mississippi. The virtual art exhibition and sale will showcase over sixty Nasty artists, with their opening on the website at 6:00 p.m., on Thursday, October 1, 2020 - the same night as Standing Strong Memphis.

When: September 4, 2020–November 6, 2020

Where: www.NastyWomenMemphis.com

History of the Exhibit -

NASTY WOMEN Memphis is the Memphis, Tennessee representative and exhibit of Nasty Women Global Art Exhibitions and Activism. More than 80 exhibits have followed globally, but the original took place in Queens, NYC, after the 2016 election of Donald Trump.
