CHOICE PRESENTED BY NASTY WOMEN MEMPHIS TO BE DISPLAYED THIS FALL AT MARSHALL ARTS GALLERY

CONTACT: NastyWomenMemphis@gmail.com

Local artists will exhibit work in response to the overturning of Roe v. Wade. The exhibition will open at 6:00 pm, Friday, October 7, 2022, at Marshall Arts Gallery: 639 Marshall Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee, and will be on display until Friday, October 21, 2022.

CHOICE, previously scheduled to exhibit at Crosstown Arts, has changed venue to Marshall Arts Gallery; with Crosstown sponsoring, and Marshall Arts hosting, the exhibit.

CHOICE is a group exhibition that demonstrates solidarity among artists who identify as or support women and people with uteruses in the face of threats to individual and reproductive rights. The exhibit also serves as a fundraiser with 50% of all art sales being donated directly to Planned Parenthood of Tennessee and North Mississippi and the other 50% given back to the participating artists.

History of the Exhibit -

NASTY WOMEN Memphis is the Memphis, Tennessee representative of Nasty Women Global Art Exhibitions and Activism. More than 80 exhibits have followed globally, but the original took place after the 2016 election in Queens, NYC.

CHOICE will be Nasty Women Memphis' fourth group exhibition where artists can gather in solidarity, express their rage through art, and support our local Planned Parenthood.
